November 18, 2017 - During the American Association of Pharmaceutical Scientists (AAPS) Annual Meeting held in San Diego, CA, earlier this week, Dr. Tony Zhou, Assistant Professor of Industrial and Physical Pharmacy, received his second stage of Emerging Researcher Award from the International Pharmaceutical Excipients Council (IPEC) of the Americas Foundation. This two-year award will provide seed funding for the outstanding beginning scientist who demonstrated excellence and dedication to the area of pharmaceutical excipients. Dr. Zhou is the first awardee of the IPEC Emerging Researcher Award.

Carolina del Pilar Mora Guerrero

Dr. Rodolfo Pinal

---

here