Purdue Pharmacy students win at the Purdue Undergraduate Research Conference
Published on Purdue College of Pharmacy (https://www.pharmacy.purdue.edu)
In vitro characterization of delta opioid receptor pharmacology

Kendall Mores
Van Eijk Lab - Molecular Chemistry and Molecular Pharmacology
Purdue Pharmacy students win at the Purdue Undergraduate Research Conference

The College of Pharmacy would like to congratulate the winners honored at the Purdue Undergraduate Conference.

Kendall Mores won second place in the university wide oral presentation competition. Her presentation was “In Vitro Characterization of Delta Opioid Receptor Pharmacology”.

The following students won at the Undergraduate Poster Symposium for the College of Pharmacy:

1st
Stephen Purdy – FGFR Signaling Facilitates Acquired Resistance to Trastuzumab Emtansine

2nd
Amanda Grabowski – Repurposing Acetazolamide as an Inhibitor of Vancomycin Resistant Enterococcus

3rd (tie)
Martasia Carter – “And understand I am a person and not just a number:” Reproductive health decision-making among Italian Women

3rd (tie)
Julia Czarnik – Does Response Effect of Dried Blueberry Powder on Bone Turnover in Post-Menopausal Women Using 41Ca Technology